

ANA MARTÍN ANCEL

---

Ana Martín-Ancel, M.D., Ph.D. Neonatologist at Sant Joan de Déu Hospital, Barcelona, Spain. She studied Medicine and obtained her Ph.D. at Universidad Autónoma de Madrid. She received board certification in Pediatrics (1994), and certification in Neonatology (2003). Member of the Spanish Society of Neonatology. Council member of the Neonatology Working Group, European Society for Pediatric Research (1997-2000). Founding member of the Neonatal Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation Group of the Spanish Society of Neonatology (2001-2009). Member of the Educational Commission of the Spanish Society of Pediatrics (2011-2014). She was founding member of the Bioethics Commission, and member of the Clinical Research Ethical Committee at Fundación Hospital Alcorcón, Madrid; she is currently member of the Clinical Research and Drugs Ethical Committee at Sant Joan de Déu Hospital, Barcelona. Dr. Martín-Ancel has participated in international cooperation activities as external consultant of the NGO CESAL, and in the development of a Platform in Maternal and Perinatal Health in Rabat, Morocco, funded by the Spanish Agency for International Development Cooperation (2008-2012). Dr. Martín-Ancel is Clinical Professor at University of Barcelona Medical School, and she is Collaborator Teacher at the Master of Neonatology at University of Barcelona Medical School, and at the Master of Pediatric Palliative Care at International University of Rioja. She has published over forty scientific papers, and has led more than 40 postgraduate courses. She is part of the team that has developed Perinatal Palliative Care at Sant Joan de Déu Hospital, Barcelona.